

Materials of Trade Declaration Statement:

Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (LBNL) allows staff to transport small quantities of hazardous materials in accordance with the Department of Transportation's "Materials of Trade" exception (49 Code of Federal Regulations, Section 173.6) and LBNL policy.

Transportation of the hazardous materials in this vehicle is being transported in direct support of work activities and is within quantity limits in 49CFR173.6. The hazardous materials are packaged and marked in accordance with requirements in 49CFR173.6.

Transportation of the hazardous materials in this vehicle is in full compliance with DOT transportation requirements.

Questions about LBNL's hazardous materials transportation program can be directed to the LBNL Shipping Department (510-486-5084).
